ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT (LAGGARD POLICY)

The Board of Kelsey School Division feels that it is in the interests of all concerned to maintain a policy with respect to laggard students.

The concern of the Board is not as much with the students who try hard but are unable to succeed as with those who simply fail to put forth an effort. It is for the students who continually neglect to hand in assignments or do any work in class. In other words, this policy applies to students who have ability but are indifferent and fail to apply themselves to their courses.

Parents will be informed when a student is lagging in class. With the cooperation of parents, hopefully, the student will make satisfactory improvements. If, after two notices, the student still persists with a laggard attitude, they will be required to withdraw from school for the rest of the semester.
